

Structuring success.

Successful cash management means finding the best return while never losing a penny. KMZ understands this. As a result, we serve as counsel to the leaders—both investors and borrowers—in this business.

Every day, lawyers in our 90-member Financial Services Group represent leading money market funds, investment banks, financial institutions, insurance companies and money managers in the design, structure, review and purchase of innovative, short-term investment products.

As the markets, products and institutions change, we help clients seize opportunities and respond to challenges involving structured asset-backed securities and commercial paper, synthetic floating rate securities, tender option bonds, variable rate demand bonds and notes, guaranteed investment contracts, funding agreements and deposit agreements, securities lending and repurchase agreements, municipal reinvestment products, and ISDA swap and forward transactions.

We are ready to bring our perspective and experience to your business.
